Re: R-708 L-021G Pipeline Replacement Project (74001643)
Final Offer of Just Compensation for Property Located at the Southerly End of Cader Lane, Petaluma
APN: 017-170-001, Sonoma County

Dear Mr. Stutsman:

Pursuant to past discussions and correspondence between the City and Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), PG&E is undertaking a gas transmission pipeline replacement project, R-708 L-021G Pipeline Replacement Project (Project). PG&E's top priority is to ensure the safety and reliability of its natural gas transmission system. After a comprehensive inspection and evaluation of the system, PG&E has determined it is necessary to replace segments of the existing gas pipeline on City's Property. I am contacting you to provide an update to previous discussions between the City and PG&E's previous Right of Way Consultant, Mrs. Laura Menendez with Interwest Consulting Group, regarding the Project. PG&E hopes to reach a fair and amicable agreement to purchase a permanent utility easement and a temporary construction easement on Assessor Parcel No. 017-170-001 located at the Southerly End of Cadre Lane, Petaluma, California also known as Shollenberger Park (Property) to facilitate implementation of this Project at the earliest practical date.

PG&E retained an independent, licensed appraiser to value the proposed easements on the Property. The appraiser valued the permanent easement ($6,186) and temporary construction easement ($11,392) on the Property in amounts totaling $17,600 (rounded). Based on this appraisal, PG&E submitted an updated written offer dated November 2, 2022 to obtain the necessary easements for the Project. A copy of the appraisal supporting the offer was included with PG&E's prior offer letter. The appraisal was updated to include an additional temporary construction easement area for ground water discharge. Based on the updated appraisal, the amount of just compensation is $29,300 (rounded; permanent easement $6,186 and temporary construction easement $23,034). A copy of the updated appraisal report dated March 6, 2023 was previously provided and is enclosed.

Please note that the construction schedule was recently modified and scheduled to commence on or around October 2023 (instead of July as initially planned) for a three-month term for the installation of the new pipeline. A second construction timeframe was added for August 2024 for a three-month term to complete the project. This increased the temporary construction easement term from four-months to six-months; therefore, the updated offer amount based on the appraised value is $41,000 (rounded).

By this letter, PG&E's settlement proposal to acquire the permanent easement and six-month temporary construction easement (two terms, each term is three-months) on the Property remains at $100,000, which is fair and just compensation based on the updated appraisal plus an additional amount for settlement purposes if the City grants the executed easements by June 21, 2023. Enclosed is an Agreement (Agreement) for the City's review.

To ensure the continued safety and reliability of delivering gas service to the public and protect the Project schedule, PG&E may have to take formal steps and file eminent domain proceedings if the easement rights are not acquired by June 21, 2023. However, please know that PG&E will continue these negotiations in good faith if eminent domain proceedings are filed.

As you may know, the City may obtain its own appraisal of the easement at PG&E's expense (up to $5,000). To be reimbursed by PG&E, the City must select an independent appraiser licensed by the California Office of Real Estate Appraisers and document its reasonable costs. PG&E is not required to accept the results of the City's appraisal, however. If the City decides to obtain such an appraisal, please let us know and we will arrange to reimburse the expense, up to $5,000.

During project construction, care will be taken to avoid any damage to the Property. Following work on the Property, PG&E's construction contractor will clean and restore the site to its pre-existing condition. PG&E will pay for any damage to the Property, caused by Project construction, after evaluating a written estimate of damage that you may submit to PG&E. PG&E and/or its construction contractor will confer with you in good faith to resolve any Project damage claim. By agreeing to the permanent or temporary easements, you will not limit your ability to bring legal action against PG&E for such property damage losses if they are not resolved to your satisfaction.

This letter constitutes PG&E's final offer to purchase the permanent and temporary easements. All previous offers and the offers in this letter have been made under the provisions of Evidence Code section 1152 for the purpose of confidential settlement negotiations.

As the Project is scheduled to commence in October 2023, time is of the essence. We ask that this matter be included on the City Council's agenda as quickly as possible, while the parties continue to try and finalize this transaction. If eminent domain proceedings are filed, the appraised value of the proposed permanent easement and temporary construction easement ($41,000) will be deposited into the State's Condemnation Deposit Fund while our efforts towards settlement continue.

Copies of the Easement Deed and Temporary Construction Easement, and supporting documents, are enclosed for the City's consideration and signature. Only signatures to the Easement Deed must be notarized. Please contact me at (925) 334-6338 or Jamie.Stevens@pge.com after review of this letter to further discuss and resolve this matter. PG&E remains hopeful that it can reach a settlement with the City and will take every reasonable step to address concerns.

Kevin Larson, MAI

7th Floor, Room 7044A

Concord, CA 94520

Dear Mr. Larson,

Pursuant to our agreement, an appraisal has been made of the Fair Market Value of the City of Petaluma property known as Shollenberger Park. It is identified as Assessor's Parcel Number 017-170-001 located at the southerly end of Cader Lane in Petaluma (Sonoma County), California. This 212.19-acre property is also on the northerly side of Petaluma River. The property being appraised will be referred to as the Subject property in this report.

The purpose of this appraisal is to provide you with an opinion of just compensation for the proposed acquisitions of one permanent easement for a gas transmission line and one temporary construction easement in 6 segments. The easements are required for a PG&E gas transmission line project that will replace an existing older gas transmission line.

This report contains a description of the entire property in the before condition, the acquisitions, the effect of the acquisitions upon the remainder, and estimated just compensation associated with the acquisitions and project. The appraisal of the property in the before condition is made under the hypothetical condition that the proposed PG&E project does not exist.

The Notice of Decision to Appraise was sent to the owner on July 27, 2022. The city responded by saying a meeting was unnecessary and to proceed with the appraisal.

An onsite viewing of the Subject property took place on August 3, 2022.

I have gathered pertinent information, sales, and other data relevant to the valuation of the property and analyzed the data to reach my conclusions. In my opinion, just compensation for the property rights to be acquired from the Subject property as of August 3, 2022, was $29,200.

This is a Restricted Use appraisal report that may not be understood properly without additional information retained in the appraiser's file. This report is performed in accordance with generally accepted reporting requirements for Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice 2-2(b). Please refer to the Statement of Limiting Conditions, Extraordinary Assumptions and Hypothetical Conditions found in the Introduction section of this report as they could affect the results of this assignment as they affect the results of this assignment.

Very Truly Yours,

CHAPMAN & PATTON

Definitions

After Condition - The after condition refers to the property as it existed on the valuation date, but following the partial acquisition and project construction.

Appraisal Report (Restricted) - A written appraisal report prepared under Standards Rule 2-2(b) of the Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.

Before Condition - The before condition is the condition of the property on the valuation date (as if) prior to the project, planning and steps leading up to the project.

Benefits - A benefit is an increase in value accruing specially to a remainder property as a result of a partial acquisition or project construction.¹

Easement - Nonpossessory (incorporeal) interest in landed property conveying use, but not ownership, of a portion of that property.²

Encumbrance - Any claim or liability that affects or limits the title to property. An encumbrance can affect the title such as a mortgage or other lien, or it can affect the physical condition of the property such as an easement. An encumbrance cannot prevent the transfer of possession, but it does remain after the transfer.³

Extraordinary Assumption - An assignment-specific assumption as of the effective date regarding uncertain information used in an analysis which, if found to be false, could alter the appraiser's opinions or conclusions."⁴ An extraordinary assumption may be used in an assignment only if:

- It is required to properly develop credible opinions and conclusions;
- The appraiser has a reasonable basis for the extraordinary assumption;
- Use of the extraordinary assumption results in a credible analysis; and
- The appraiser complies with the disclosure requirements set forth in USPAP for extraordinary assumptions.

Exposure Time - Estimated length of time that the property interest being appraised would have been offered on the market prior to the hypothetical consummation of a sale at market value on the effective date of the appraisal.⁵

Fee Simple - Absolute ownership unencumbered by any other interest or estate, subject only to the limitations imposed by the governmental powers of taxation, eminent domain, police power and escheat.⁶

Highest And Best Use - The following explanation is taken directly from the 15th Edition of The Appraisal of Real Estate:

The reasonably probable and legal use of vacant land or an improved property that is physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible, and that results in the highest value. The four criteria the highest and best use must meet are legal permissibility, physical possibility, financial feasibility, and maximum productivity. Alternatively, the probable use of land or improved property – specific with respect to the user and timing of the use – that is adequately supported and results in the highest present value.

Hypothetical Condition - A Hypothetical Condition is “a condition, directly related to a specific assignment, which is contrary to what is known by the appraiser to exist on the effective date of the assignment results, but is used for the purpose of analysis.”

Comment: “Hypothetical Conditions are contrary to known facts about physical, legal or economic characteristics of the subject property; or about conditions external to the property, such as market conditions or trends; or about the integrity of data used in the analysis.”⁷

Just Compensation - In condemnation, the amount of loss for which a property owner is compensated when his or her property is taken. Just compensation should put the owner in as good a position pecuniarily as he or she would have been if the property had not been taken.

Larger Parcel - In governmental land acquisitions, the tract or tracts of land that are under the beneficial control of a single individual or entity and have the same, or an integrated, highest and best use. Elements for consideration by the appraiser in making a determination in this regard are contiguity, or proximity, as it bears on the highest and best use of the property, unity of ownership, and unity of highest and best use.⁸

Market Value - (a) The fair market value of the property taken is the highest price on the date of the valuation that would be agreed to by a seller, being willing to sell, but under no particular or urgent necessity of so doing nor obliged to sell, and a buyer, being ready, willing and able to buy, but under no particular necessity for so doing, each dealing with each other with full knowledge of the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

(b) The fair market value of property taken for which there is no relevant, comparable market is its value on the date of valuation as determined by any method of valuation that is just and equitable.⁹

Severance Damage - Severance damage is a loss in value to a remainder property caused by a partial acquisition(s) and/or project construction.¹⁰

ANALYSIS

The City and Neighborhood

The Subject is located next to a modern business park and Petaluma River in the southeasterly sector of the city of Petaluma.

The city of Petaluma is located approximately 39 miles north of San Francisco in the southerly end of Sonoma County. It is several miles north of the shores of the San Francisco Bay, convenient to all major Bay Area employment centers, and is one of nine incorporated cities in the county. The city includes 14 square miles, approximately 30 miles from the Pacific Ocean. It was incorporated in 1858 and presently has a population estimated at approximately 61,000.

The population of Petaluma began to grow dramatically in the early 1970s when Highway 101 was constructed thereby providing a fast and efficient commute to major employment centers in the Bay Area. Highway 101 remains as the city's primary vehicular route that connects Petaluma with Santa Rosa to the north and San Rafael to the south. The commute to San Francisco takes in excess of 60 minutes on a typical weekday.

The historic downtown is located along the Petaluma River and is one of the primary draws of the city. Recent redevelopment projects in the downtown core area have helped revitalize and energize the westerly portion of the river.

In summary, Petaluma is centrally located offering a wide range of employment opportunities both in the city and in major employment centers such as the North Bay Area and Santa Rosa.

Market Conditions

Residential market conditions in the region have suddenly shifted in the last few months. After 2 years of robust appreciation, trends in the market began to slow in late March 2022 due primarily to increasing mortgage rates. As of the effective date of value, the median price for a home in Petaluma was $965,445, down 1.4%. Though a drop of 1.4% in the median home price does not seem significant, listing prices have been reduced while the days on market (DOM) have increased. In the last 5 months prior to the effective date of value, mortgage rates have risen by over 200 basis points.

The market for agricultural acreage has also experienced the same type of trends in the 5 months as the residential sector. This is not surprising because mortgage rates also affect agricultural buyers.

FEMA Flood Hazard Area

According to the flood insurance rate map (Panel No. 06097C1001G, effective 10/2/2015), the Subject is within an AE Flood Zone with a Base Flood Elevation (BFE) of 10 feet. AE flood zones are areas that present a 1% annual chance of flooding and a 26% chance over the life of a 30-year mortgage, according to FEMA. Most AE flood zones are in close proximity to floodplains, rivers and lakes, though low-lying regions without large bodies of water may also be classified under this designation. Since these areas are prone to flooding, homeowners with mortgages from federally regulated lenders are required to purchase flood insurance.

FEMA Flood Hazard Map

Seismic Hazard

The Subject is not located in a Special Earthquake Studies Zone but is subject to ground shaking during an earthquake as are all properties in this region. Portions of the Subject are prone to liquefaction.

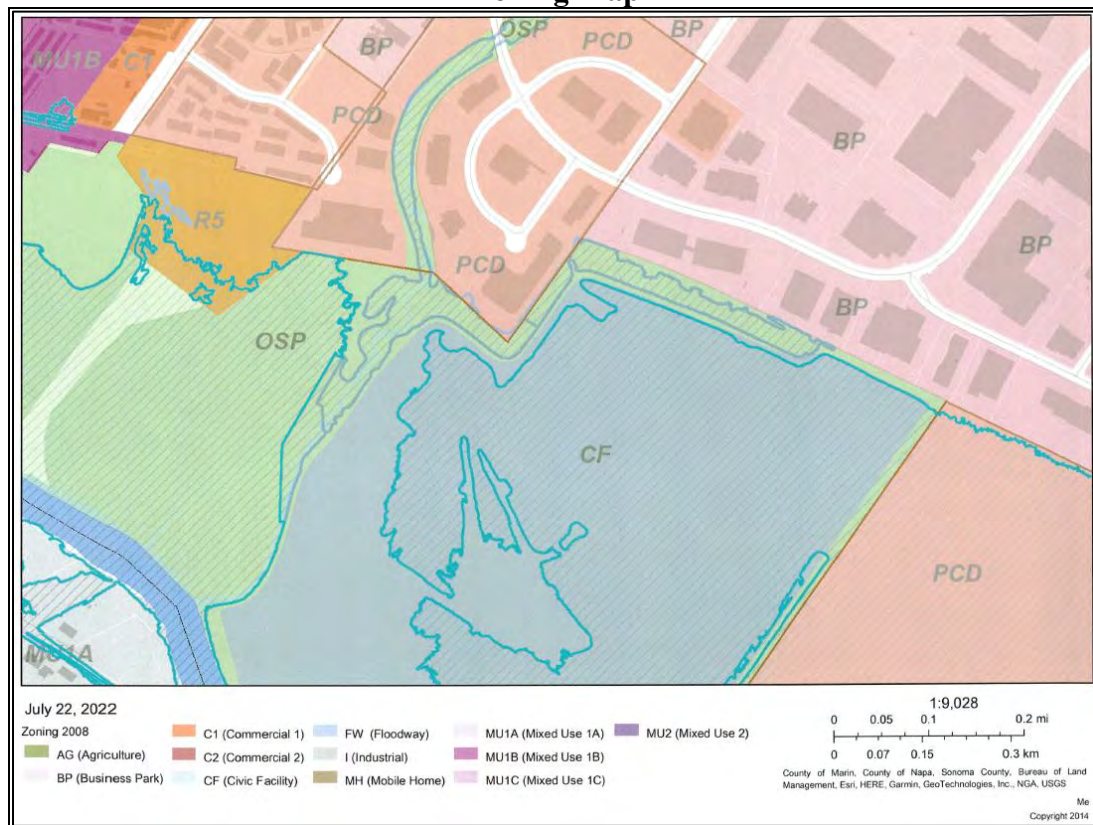

Zoning and General Plan

The westerly portion of the Subject is zoned OSP while the easterly portion is zoned CF as shown on the following zoning map (the Zoning Ordinance is found in the appraiser's file).

According the City's ordinance, the OSP zone is applied to undeveloped areas and sites that are appropriate for the preservation of natural resources, outdoor recreation, to be maintained in open space for the protection of public health and safety, and existing city public parks. City parks located in this zone may include buildings, structures, and uses that serve the community (e.g., Luchessi Community Center, Novak Center, Cavanaugh Center, library, water resources building, etc.). The OSP zone is consistent with and implements the urban separator, open space, and city park land use classifications of the general plan.

The CF designation stands for Civil Facility District. According the City's ordinance, the CF zone is applied to sites for proposed public utility facilities, government offices, community service uses and lands, and significant sites owned and operated by the elementary, secondary, or community college districts, as well as private and/or parochial schools. The zone implements and is consistent with the public/semi-public, and education classifications of the general plan.

Zoning Map

Zoning for publicly owned property is typically set aside for an appraisal with the task of determining market value.

Probability of a Zoning Change

A change in zoning is unlikely. However, this appraisal will set aside existing zoning designations.

Assessed Value and Property Tax for 2021-2022 (per ParcelQuest)

Given the Subject's governmental ownership, it is neither assessed nor taxed by Sonoma County.

Highest and Best Use - Before Condition

Existing zoning will be ignored for this assignment because the purpose of the appraisal is to provide an opinion of market value.

Soils and wetlands dictate a low intensity agricultural use similar with field crops.

The Subject's highest and best use in the before condition is limited agricultural.

Project Description

The project that prompted acquisitions from the Subject is the proposed replacement of one PG&E gas transmission line. The pipe size and pressure for the new gas line will be similar with the existing gas transmission line. The proposed gas line will be constructed using Horizontal Directional Drilling; most surface areas will not be disturbed.

The project will require one permanent easement from the Subject for a gas transmission line plus one temporary construction easement (TCE).

Permanent Easement

As shown on Appraisal Exhibit #1 (Page 21), a 60' wide permanent easement will be required for an underground gas line. The easement contains 1.2349-acres, or 53,792 square feet, located at the southeasterly tip of the Subject parcel. The area is unimproved open space except for a gravel hiking trail. Refer to the Easement Deed in Addendum F for a legal description and plat map for the permanent easement.

Temporary Construction Easement

The temporary construction easement consists of 6 segments totaling 1,520,274 square feet net. The TCE will be in effect for 4 months from July 6 to November 6, 2023.

Segment	Size SF	Net SF	Use
A	9,154	9,154	Parking lot
B	216,086	216,086	Trail

Total	1,623,676	1,520,274

Temporary Construction Easement- Parcel Segment A (see Appraisal Exhibit #2)

This parcel segment includes most of the parking lot for the trailhead. This segment contains 9,154 square feet of paving; light standards and restroom are not included in this easement.

Temporary Construction Easement- Parcel Segment B (see Appraisal Exhibit #2)

This parcel segment includes a portion of the trail that will be used for access. It contains 216,086 square feet improved with gravel.

Temporary Construction Easement- Parcel Segment C (see Appraisal Exhibit #3)

This parcel segment also includes a portion of the trail that will be used for access. It contains 22,659 square feet improved with gravel.

Temporary Construction Easement- Parcel Segment D (see Appraisal Exhibit #3)

This parcel segment is in an open space area next to the northerly property line. It contains 3,559 square feet gross and is unimproved. After deducting an existing encumbrance, the net area of this segment is 1,320 sf.

Temporary Construction Easement- Parcel Segment E (see Appraisal Exhibit #3)

This parcel segment also includes a portion of the trail that will be used for access. It contains 24,927 square feet, and unimproved except for a small area with gravel.

Temporary Construction Easement- Parcel Segment F (see Appraisal Exhibit #1)

This parcel segment also includes a portion of the trail that will be used for access. It also included open space. It contains 1,347,291 square feet gross, and unimproved except for a small area with gravel. After deducting an existing encumbrance, the net area of this segment is 1,246,128 sf.

Construction Contract Work

Construction Contract Work (CCW) includes replacing the land in the same fundamental condition as in the before condition.

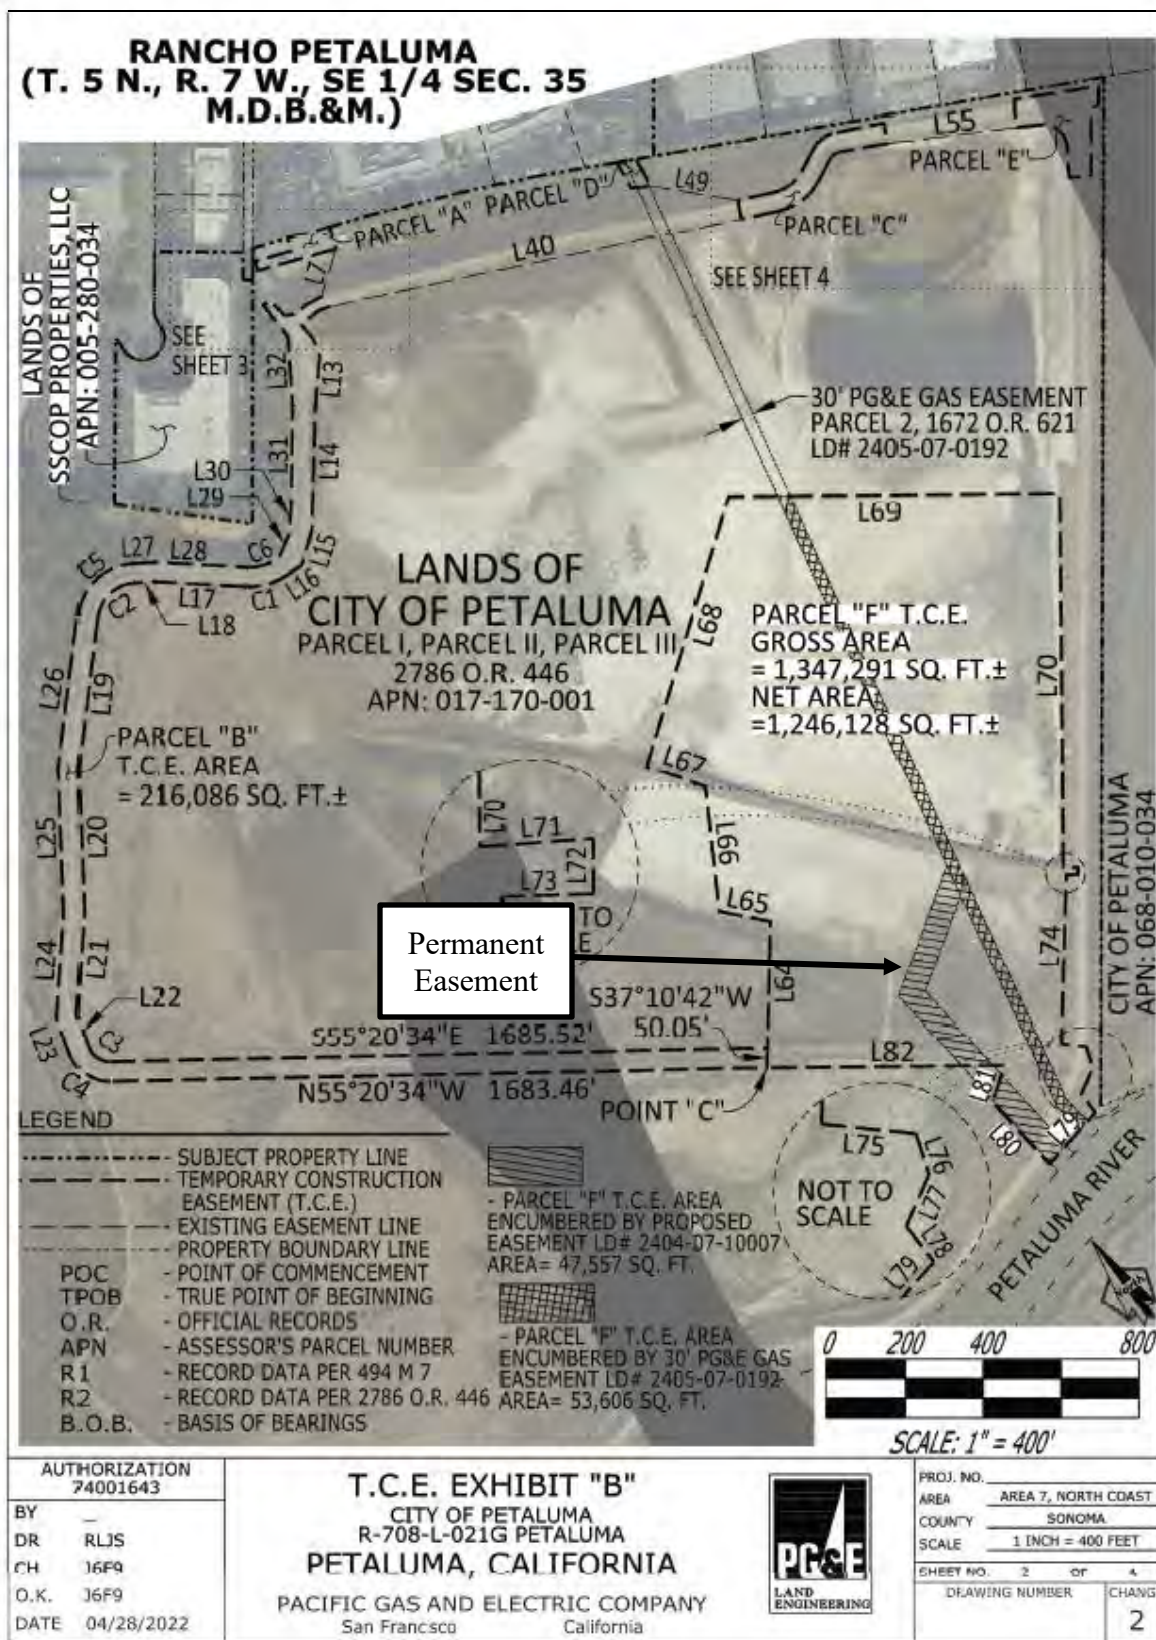

Effect of Acquisition upon Remainder

The permanent easement will not affect either the current use or Highest and Best Use of the property.

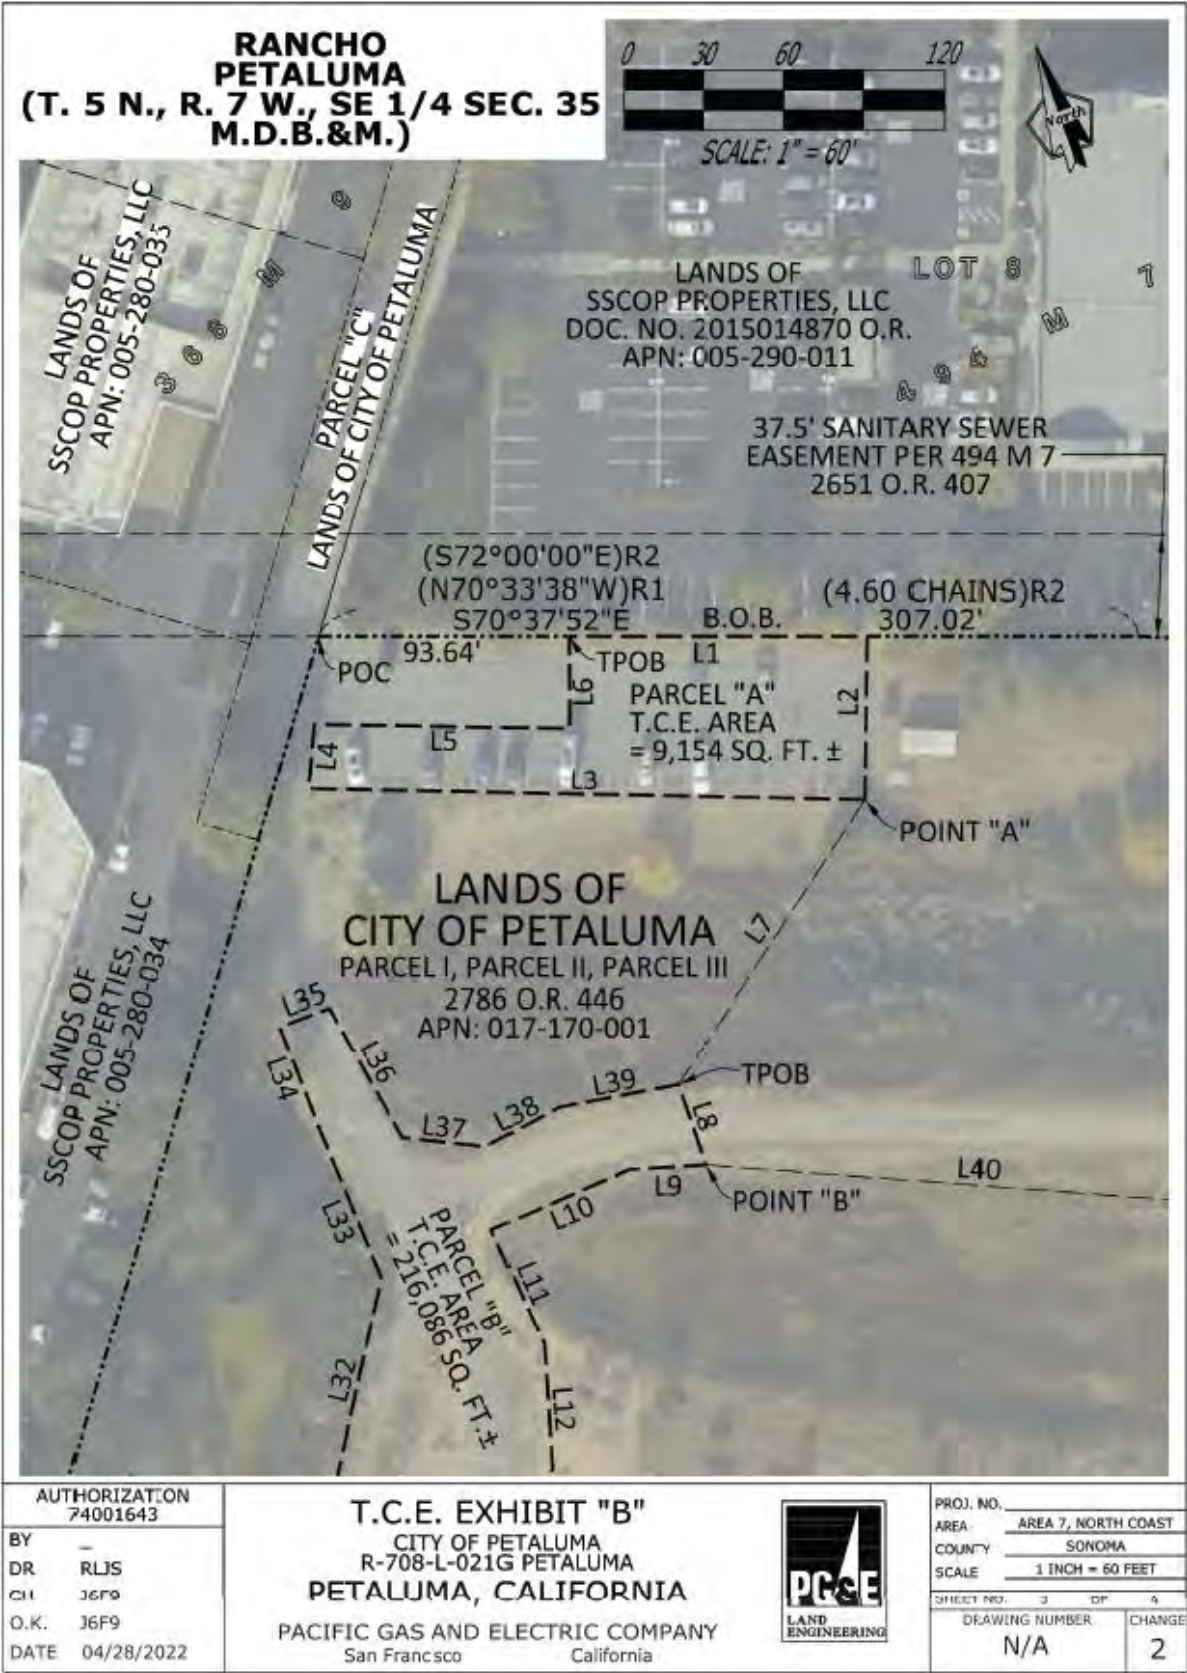

Highest and Best Use - After Condition

The highest and best use of the Subject in the after condition is unchanged from the before condition.

VALUATION

Approaches to Value

In valuing real estate, three valuation methodologies are typically accepted in the appraisal process. These are the sales comparison approach, the income approach, and the cost approach. They are further described below.

Sales Comparison Approach

The sales comparison approach utilizes the principle of substitution, wherein recently sold comparable properties are found and analyzed for comparability to the subject property. The underlying assumption is that market support will be either similar to, or identical to any of a group of adjusted substitute properties; thus, the indicated value for the subject is based on a range of adjusted values for the “substitute” or “comparable” transactions.

Income Approach

Generally, the income approach converts income expectations into market value. The assumptions for the investment model can either be implicit in the model (direct capitalization, which converts a single year’s expected income into value using a ratio from the market), or explicit (yield capitalization, or DCF, which converts each year’s net income over a specified holding period).

Cost Approach

The cost approach identifies market supported improvements costs, subtracts a market supported amount assignable to accrued depreciation, adds land value, and derives a value based on the cost to reproduce the improvements. This “cost approach” presumes that a typical buyer would not pay more for an existing improved property (or a finished lot) than it would cost to reproduce the same improvements on a highly similar (substitute) site.

Valuation Methodology

The Sales Comparison Approach was used to appraise the Subject.

The Income Capitalization Approach and Cost Approach were not utilized, as they do not reflect the primary motivations of market participants for this property type (vacant land).

Sales Comparison Approach

Value of the Land

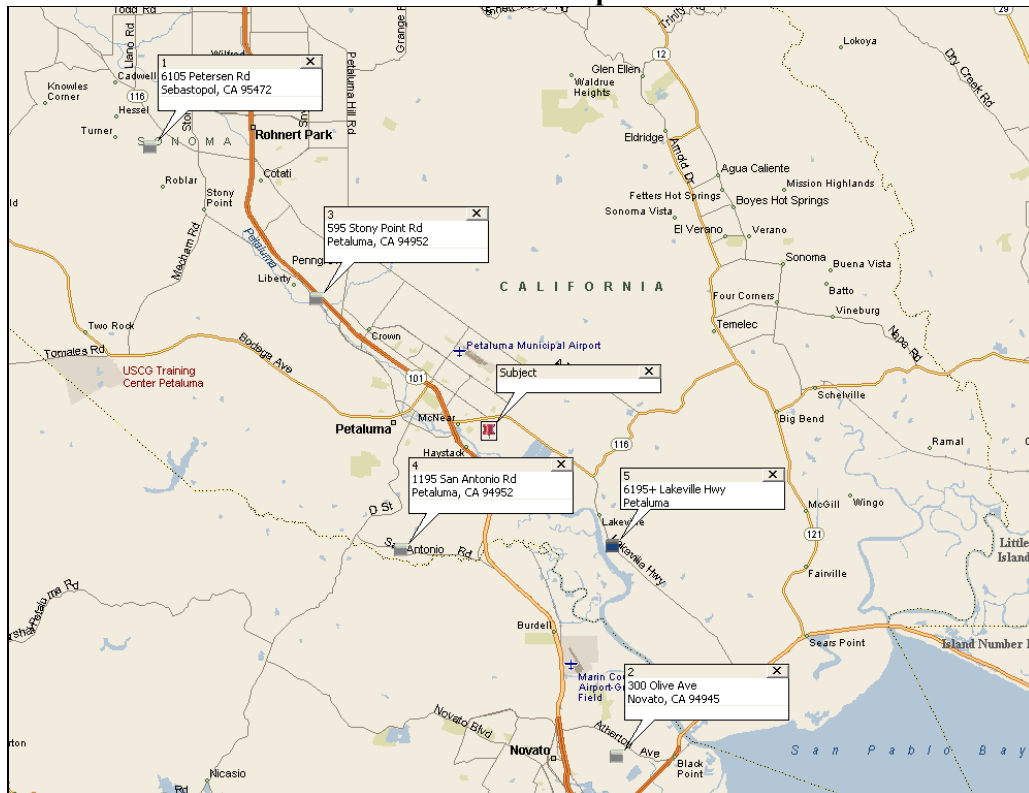

Each sale is summarized on the following Comparable Sales Table that precedes the Sales Location Map.

The sales will then be briefly discussed and compared to the Subject as a process to rate them as either similar, inferior, or superior. The sales will then be arrayed (ranked) according to their rating to produce a reasonable opinion of value.

Location Map

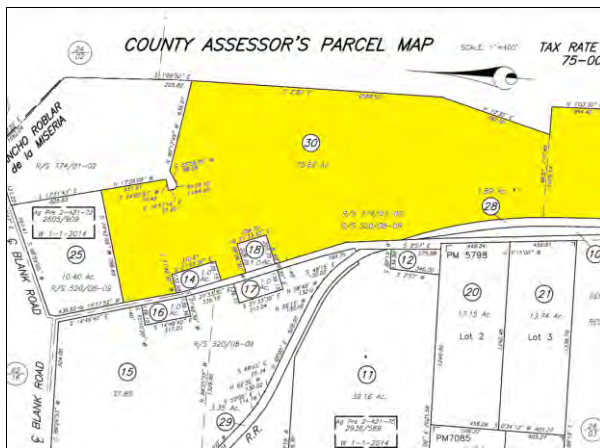

Comparable Sale #1

Sale #1 is located at 6105 Petersen Road in Sebastopol (unincorporated). This sale included 4 parcels on the easterly side of Petersen Road approximately 3 miles west of Highway 101 and Rohnert Park. Land uses in this area include houses on lots ranging from 1 to over 100 acres. In addition to residential uses, vineyards, cattle grazing, and dairies are found close to this property. Though this property had been a dairy farm, related improvements were deemed to have no value given their age and advanced level of deterioration. The property contains a total of 96.6 acres of level to gently sloping land. It is zoned DA40 which stands for Diverse Agriculture. The property is not in a flood hazard area and has direct access from Petersen Road, an improved 2-lane public thoroughfare.

This property was purchased in December 2020 for $2,100,000 or $21,739 per acre.

This property is similar with the Subject for its location in an unincorporated area of Sonoma County, proximity to Highway 101, and general agriculture as its highest and best use. It is superior because it is not in a flood hazard zone, far better access, buildable potential and parcel size.

Overall, this sale is Superior to the Subject.

Comparable Sale #2

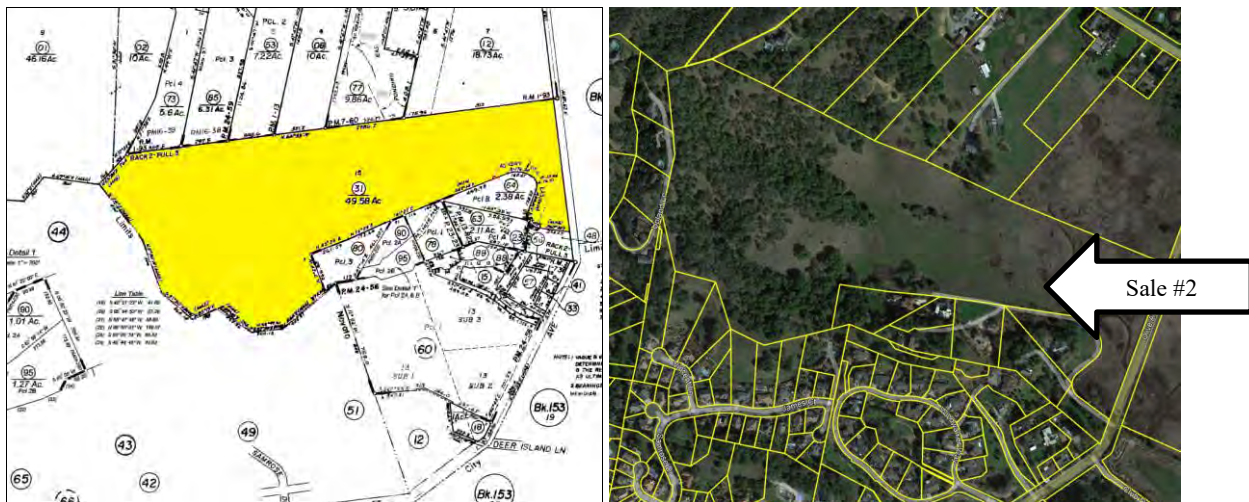

Sale #2 is south of the Subject at 300 Olive Avenue in Novato (unincorporated). This sale included one parcel on the westerly side of Olive Avenue, south of Atherton Avenue, and approximately 2 miles east of Highway 101 in Novato. Land uses in this area include residential subdivisions, houses and estates. Most of the land between this sale and Atherton Avenue is in a Flood Hazard Zone AE with a base elevation of 10 feet. It appears that 40% of this sale is within a flood zone.

The property contains a total of 49.58 acres of level to hilly land (see following topographic map). It is zoned ARP-60 for Agricultural Residential Planned. According to the listing, the property could be split. The easterly portion of the parcel next to Olive Avenue is in a flood hazard area. Utilities are available from Olive Avenue, an improved 2-lane public thoroughfare.

This property had been on the market for nearly 3 years for $1,695,000. It was purchased in June 2022 for $1,160,000 or $23,397 per acre.

This property is similar with the Subject for its time of sale, location in an unincorporated area of Marin County, proximity to Highway 101, and has a general agricultural highest and best use. It is superior because it has residential potential and upscale residential neighborhood

Overall, this sale is superior to the Subject.

Comparable Sale #3

Sale #3 is at 595 Stony Point Road in Petaluma (unincorporated). This sale is on the westerly side of Stony Point Road, accessed via a former railroad right-of-way, less than ¼ mile west of Highway 101. Land uses in this area include large pastures, small subdivisions, and an RV park. Access to Highway 101 is less than 1 mile south at Petaluma Boulevard. Most land in this neighborhood is affected by potential flooding.

The sale property has an unusual shape and contains 43.49 acres of level land subject to liquefaction. It is zoned LEA-B6 60 for agricultural use. Though structures appear to be located at the westerly end of the property, they are assumed to have little utility because the Assessor does not acknowledge them.

This property had been on the market for ~9 months before selling for its list price of $1,000,000 or $22,994 per acre. It sold in July 2020.

This property is similar with the Subject for its general location in Petaluma and agricultural highest and best use. It is superior to the Subject for its smaller size and proximity to residential uses.

Overall, this sale is superior to the Subject.

Comparable Sale #4

Sale #4 is at 1195 San Antonio Road in Petaluma (unincorporated). This sale included several parcels with extensive frontage along San Antonio Road, ~2 miles west of Highway 101. San Antonio Creek defines the parcel's southerly boundary. Land uses in this area include large agricultural properties, many with estate homes.

The property contains a total of 312 acres of level to hilly land. It is zoned LEA B6-60 for Extensive Agricultural uses. It includes modest structures including barns and a 1,646-square-foot older house.

This property sold in June 2021 for $7,200,000 or $23,077 per acre.

This property is similar with the Subject for its time of sale, location in Petaluma, proximity to Highway 101, size and general agricultural highest and best use. It is superior because of soils, an existing house and lack of flood designation.

Overall, this sale is superior to the Subject.

Comparable Sale #5

Sale #5 is located at 6195-6210 Lakeville Hwy in Petaluma (unincorporated). This sale includes two parcels on each side of Lakeville Hwy approximately 4 miles southerly of Petaluma city limits. The area is rural and primarily used for grazing or equestrian set-ups. Most farms and ranches in this vicinity have at least one house and barns. Though an older house and barn improve the westerly parcel, they were not considered habitable. The property contains a total of 31.18 acres of level to gently sloping land. It is zoned LEA60 and is not in a flood hazard area or adjacent to the Napa River. Access to both parcels is direct from public roads.

This property was purchased in June 2018 for $925,000 or $29,666 per acre.

This property is similar with the Subject for its location in an unincorporated area of Petaluma, zoning and general agriculture highest and best use. It is superior because it is not in a flood hazard zone, far better access and buildable potential. However, it is inferior for time of sale 4 years ago.

Overall, this sale is superior to the Subject.

Subject: $20,000/acre

As previously discussed, the Subject is uncommonly unique when appraised as if available for sale in the open market (see definition of Market Value). Though located next to a business park, its environmentally sensitive nature and flooding potential would reasonably prevent further commercial/industrial development on the Subject. On the other hand, a 200+ acre property within city limits that has available utilities could prompt speculative interest. Though development is highly unlikely, buyers could see this property as a long-term speculative investment. Given that scenario, a small premium is typically added to the value of the property based on present highest and best use. In this case, that use is for low intensity agricultural uses that would not affect sensitive habitat.

All of the comparable sales are superior to the Subject. Though a regional search was made for recent, inferior sales, none were found. Given the scope of this assignment, it is reasonable to assign a value slightly less the lowest priced superior sale.

Permanent Easement

The estimated value of the land in the before condition is equivalent to $20,000 per acre, or $.46 per square foot. This same figure will be used as a basis to determine the value of the proposed non-exclusive permanent easement. In this case, the rights being acquired for 53,792 square feet will be assigned 25% of fee value because it does not significantly affect the highest and best use of the property.

Temporary Construction Easement

The value of a TCE is based on either market rent or a rate of return equivalent to market rent. A rate of return of 10% per year is deemed to be equivalent to market rent for this assignment. The term of this easement is 4 months or .33 years.

Just compensation for the TCE in 6 segments that totals with 1,520,274 square feet net or 34.9 acres is calculated as follows:

TCE (6 segments)
Value/Acre	TCE - Acres	Fee Value	% of Fee/Year	Rent /Year	Years*	Total Rent
$20,000	x 34.9	x $698,000	x 10%	x $69,800	x 0.33	= $23,034

*4 months

Just compensation for the TCE is $23,034.

Remainder Value - After Condition

In terms of value, the remainder in the after condition before considering benefits is unchanged on a per acre basis from the remainder value in the before condition. Therefore, the same sales used in the valuation of the property in the before condition were used to estimate the value of the remainder in the after condition. The unencumbered remainder's value is still estimated to be ~$20,000 per acre.

The existing gas line will be vacated in place, which means the gas transmission line will be decommissioned and the easement will be quitclaimed upon request.

Severance Damage/Benefits

Severance damage is the difference between the remainder value in the before condition and the remainder value in the after condition before considering benefits. If the latter is less than the former, severance exists.

In the after condition, severance damage is not indicated.

Benefits were also not indicated.

Appraiser Profile

Dean Chapman, MAI, SRA, SR/WA is a native Northern Californian; born in Albany and raised in San Lorenzo. For 40 years, Danville was his place of residence and office. In April 2022, Mr. Chapman relocated to Bend, Oregon. The main office for Chapman & Patton is in the town of Oakdale in the Central Valley.

Mr. Chapman began appraising real estate in 1977 when United California Bank hired him as a staff appraiser in downtown Los Angeles. During the first 2 years with United California Bank, he appraised nearly 2,000 homes for mortgage-loan purposes. Some of the more interesting houses he appraised before transitioning into commercial property belonged to Neil Diamond, Marvin Gaye, and Andy Griffith.

In 1979, he joined Donald H. Ashley and Associates in Hayward where he was taught techniques needed to properly appraise property for condemnation purposes. Mr. Chapman was awarded the RM designation by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers in 1984 and the MAI designation from the Appraisal Institute in 1991. In 1998, Mr. Chapman bought the appraisal firm from Mr. Ashley and renamed it Dean Chapman & Associates. He became a member of the International Right of Way Association in the 1990's and was awarded the SR/WA designation from that organization in 2003. In 2005, his article entitled Transmission Lines and Industrial Property Value was not only published in the Right of Way Magazine, it won the Mark Green Award for excellence in journalism. He also co-authored Transitional Use Temporary Construction Easements that was published in the Right of Way Magazine in 2019.

In 2018, the appraisal firm was renamed Chapman and Patton.

Mr. Chapman is married and has two sons. His hobbies include running marathons, hiking, fly-fishing and singing. Prior to becoming an appraiser Mr. Chapman was a back-up singer for numerous celebrities.

An Overview of the Eminent Domain Process and the Property Owner's Rights Under Eminent Domain Law

(This is informational material. It is not intended to give a complete statement of the laws and regulations governing the acquisition of property for public use.)

1. What is eminent domain?

Eminent domain is the power given to a government agency or a public utility to acquire property for public use. The power of eminent domain is balanced with the constitutional obligation to pay just compensation. A majority of acquisitions are settled by contract. However, if the owner and the acquiring entity cannot agree to the terms of the proposed acquisition, the acquiring entity may invoke the eminent domain process to avoid delaying the project. At any time during this process, the owner has the right to consult with and/or hire an attorney.

2. What is public use?

A public use is a use that promotes a public interest in relation to any legitimate government or public utility objective. Examples of public uses include acquisition of property for highway and street purposes, for school facilities, for a municipal airport and for electric power lines and gas pipelines and associated equipment and facilities.

3. What must the acquiring entity show to be able to acquire property for a proposed project?

The power of eminent domain may be exercised to acquire property for a proposed project if it is established that : (a) the public interest and necessity require the project; (b) the project is planned or located in the manner that will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury; and (c) the property sought to be acquired is necessary for the project.

4. What is just compensation?

The measure of just compensation is fair market value. The fair market value of the property or property interest taken is defined as the highest price on the date of valuation that would be agreed to by a seller, being willing to sell but under no particular or urgent necessity for so doing, nor obliged to sell, and a buyer, being ready, willing and able to buy, but under no particular necessity for so doing, each dealing with the other with full knowledge of all the uses and purposes for which the property is reasonably adaptable and available.

5. How is the fair market value of the property determined?

The fair market value of the property will be determined by an independent appraiser. The appraiser will contact the owner and the owner will be given an opportunity to accompany the appraiser and provide relevant information to the appraiser about the property.

6. What happens if the property owner incurs crop loss and/or damage to its property as a result of the project?

The property owner is entitled to receive just compensation for crop loss and/or damage to its property as a result of the project. Generally, the value of crop loss is measured by taking the market value of the estimated crop and deducting marketing and production costs.

7. What is a pre-condemnation offer?

The acquiring entity shall establish an amount that it believes to be just compensation and shall make an offer to the owner to acquire the property or property interest for the full amount so established. The acquiring entity shall provide the owner a written statement and a summary of the basis for the amount it established as just compensation. The amount shall not be less than the public entity's approved appraisal of the fair market value of the property. The written statement and summary shall contain detail sufficient to indicate clearly the basis for the offer.

8. Can the owner obtain its own appraisal?

Yes. An acquiring entity shall offer to pay the reasonable costs, not to exceed $5,000, of an independent appraisal ordered by the owner of a property that an acquiring entity offers to purchase under the threat of eminent domain. The independent appraisal shall be conducted by an appraiser licensed by the Office of Real Estate Appraisers.

9. What is a right of entry agreement?

A right of entry agreement is an agreement between the acquiring entity and the owner which allows the acquiring entity to enter the property and construct the project while the parties continue to negotiate the amount of compensation and other terms of settlement.

10. What happens if the parties do not enter into a right of entry agreement?

The acquiring entity may file an eminent domain action to avoid delaying the project and will serve the owner with a copy of the summons and the complaint in eminent domain.

11. What is an answer?

An answer is the owner's written response to the eminent domain complaint and is filed with the court and served on the acquiring entity.

12. What is a prejudgment possession order?

After filing the complaint and depositing the probable amount of compensation, the acquiring entity may file with the court an ex-parte application or a noticed motion for a prejudgment possession order. The owner may file an opposition or objection to the application or motion. If the court grants an application or motion for a prejudgment possession order, the acquiring entity may enter the property and construct the project while the parties continue to negotiate or litigate the amount of compensation.

13. Can the owner withdraw the probable amount of compensation?

Yes. At any time prior to entry of judgment, the owner may apply to the court for the withdrawal of all or any portion of the amount of probable compensation deposited.

14. What happens if the parties do not reach a settlement on the amount of compensation?

The court will conduct a trial to determine the amount of compensation. Each side will be given an opportunity to present evidence of value. A jury will determine the amount of compensation after being instructed as to the law by the judge. In cases where the parties choose not to have a jury, the judge will determine the amount of compensation.

15. Who pays for the cost of trial?

The acquiring entity will pay its own attorney and expert fees, legal costs and expenses. In addition, the acquiring entity will pay jury fees if applicable and will pay the owner recoverable costs allowed by law. The fee incurred by the owner for filing an Answer to the Complaint is an example of recoverable cost. Furthermore, if the judge determines that the acquiring entity's final settlement offer before trial was unreasonable and the owner's final settlement offer was reasonable in light of the evidence and the verdict, the acquiring entity will be required to pay the owner's attorney fees.
